commencement ceremonies Friday night in the Miami Trace High School gymnasium. Black is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Black, 186 Hickory Lane.

Over 3,000 attend rites

High school days end for 250 MT seniors

A total of 250 seniors marched to the traditional tune of "Pomp and Circumstance" and received their diplomas Friday night at Miami Trace High School.

Over 3,000 parents and friends packed the high school gymnasium to witness the commencement exercises. The two-hour program was concluded by Superintendent Guy M. Foster passing out handshakes and diplomas followed by the school alma mater.

After the 250 seniors, garbed in white or black robes entered the gymnasium, four students gave the senior addresses. The speakers consisted of three class valedictorians, Julie Kay Fetters, Susan Eileen Pero, and Deborah Marie Persinger, and salutatorian Mark William Roark.

Their speeches were followed by a farewell address from senior class president Joseph R. Black.

Miami Trace High School principal

Curtis E. Fleisher then presented the class for graduation to Superintendent Foster who made the graduation exercises official with the presentation of diplomas.

The recessional as well as the processional music were provided by the high school band. The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. Victor K. Slutz of the New Holland Church of Christ.

Before the diplomas were awarded, Jeffery Evans, assistant principal at the high school, announced a list of 39 seniors who received special awards or scholarships.

The list included:

Cynthia Baird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Baird, received a $50 scholarship from the Fayette County Professional Nurses Association, a $50 scholarship from the American Association of University Women and a $25 Savings Bond from the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority. She will be attending Ohio State University to study registered nursing.

Sara Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Benson, received a $500 scholarship from the Eymann Fund. She will major in computer science at Ohio State University.

Joe Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Black, received a $225 scholarship from the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club. He will major in business administration and management at Capital University.

Jay Bloomer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bloomer, received a $300 scholarship from Franklin University, Columbus. He will attend Franklin University and major in accounting.

Cheryl Blue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Marcy, received a $500 scholarship from the Katherine E. Parrett Trust. She will major in physical therapy at West Virginia University.

Chonita Brust, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brust, received a $200 scholarship from the Miami Trace Association. She will major in elementary education at Mt. Vernon Nazarene College.

Jennifer Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burnett, received a $100 scholarship from Mrs. Elizabeth H. Devins Palaskas. She will major in business administration and interior decorating at Hillsdale (Mich.) College.

Denise Carpenter, daughter of Mrs. Sandra Butler and Theodore Greer, received a $100 scholarship from Mrs. Elizabeth H. Devins Palaskas. Because of her scores on the National Merit Test, she has received an affirmative action award for $885 in engineering at Ohio State University. She has also been accepted at Florida A&M University and if she accepts she will receive over a four-year period a $10,000 scholarship.

Rex Coe, son of Mrs. Mary Coe, will attend Capital University where he has received an athletic grant to play football and baseball. He will major in business.

Susan Coe, daughter of Mrs. Coe, received a $500 scholarship from the Katherine E. Parrett Trust. She will major in legal secretarial work at Columbus Business University.

Kim Conley, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Conley, received a $500 scholarship from the Eymann Fund. She will major in journalism at Ohio State University.

Marilyn Creamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Creamer, received a $200 scholarship from the National Honor Society chapter. She will major in Christian education at Kentucky Christian College.

Brant Dunn, son of Mrs. Marilyn Dunn, received a Kiwanis Club memorial scholarship for $350. He will study systems analysis or medicine at Miami University, Oxford.

Bruce Fennig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fennig, received a $100 scholarship from the Fayette County Night Owls CB Radio Club. He will study engineering at Ohio State University.

Julie Fetters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fetters, received a $250 scholarship from the National Honor Society. She will study nursing at Ohio State University.

Fire burned hour before discovery

Frayed cord eyed in club holocaust

ATLANTA (AP) — An Atlanta investigating team says a fire that killed at least 161 persons at a Southgate, Ky., supper club a week ago probably burned for more than an hour before being reported.

The Associated Press learned Friday that a three-man private investigating team reported their findings to Kentucky fire officials Thursday night.

The team estimated that last Saturday's fire began around 7 p.m., EDT. The first alarm was received by firefighters at 9:02 p.m.

The investigators concluded that the fire at the Beverly Hills Supper Club was caused by an electrical short circuit in a power cord for a decorative water fountain pump near the club's Zebra Room.

The high-resistance short in the cord probably was caused by chafing of the cord against an unprotected hole in the fountain's metal frame, the team said.

The fire traveled up a steel I-beam, which acted as a chimney behind heavily plastered walls, eventually reaching the club's attic space, where it was trapped beneath a metal roof, the team said.

The team completed its on-the-scene investigation Thursday after state officials and out-of-state experts spent two days trying to track down the cause. The investigating team's presence on the scene was authorized by a press secretary for Gov. Virgil Carroll.

A wedding reception planned for the Zebra Room was moved elsewhere because the room became too warm. The occupants thought the air conditioning had failed.

However, the team said it found that the room was cool on one side and hot on the side where the fire was moving up the I-beam to the attic space.

The team said the fire moved from the attic to above the Cabaret Room, where several hundred persons were waiting to hear entertainer John Davidson.

The first word of the fire came when a waitress handed a message to busboy Walter Bailey, who was in the Cabaret Room, at 8:45.

Bailey interrupted a comedians' act on stage to ask people to move out of the club, avoiding any mention of fire.

People began leaving calmly, he said, "but the minute we got to the hallway, all hell broke loose."

The fire which killed at least 161 people at Beverly Hills Supper Club "had to be a fluke," an investigator for the National Bureau of Standards has concluded.

Bright described the building as being of "excellent construction."

"It's one of the best built clubs of its kind I've ever seen," Bright said, adding that the club used the best and most durable materials possible with a minimum of plastics.

The contents of the club and not the structure were what caused the spread of smoke and flames, he said.

He said most of the deaths could have been prevented if patrons had heeded the first warnings about the fire.

Many survivors reported that patrons of the Cabaret Room—where a show was going on—thought the first warnings about the fire were part of a comedy act that was going on at the time.

Meanwhile, Southgate city officials released all of their files on fire inspections and construction at the supper club, located five miles south of Cincinnati.

The files were released after a request by The Associated Press for full compliance with Kentucky's state law regarding public access to records.

The correspondence contained no report of any violations during a local fire inspection in April 1976.

"I construe that to mean that no infractions occurred," said City Attorney Albert Root.

Southgate officials said they have no other correspondence regarding any later fire inspections.

During fire checks in 1974 and 1975, inspectors from the Southgate volunteer fire department recommended both years that extinguishers be checked. There were also reports during both inspections that the boiler room was cluttered.

Three Cincinnati architects, hired by newspapers to examine the blueprints held by Southgate authorities, concluded that there were not enough exits provided in the Cabaret room.

However, William R. Roeding, in a telephone interview from Fort Richie, (Please turn to page 2)

Pope expresses fire sympathy

SOUTHGATE, Ky. (AP) — Pope Paul VI has expressed his condolences and sympathy to the families affected by the fire at the Beverly Hills Supper Club in which at least 161 died.

Jean Cardinal Villot, Vatican Secretary of State, conveyed the message in a telegram to Covington Bishop Richard H. Ackerman. A diocesan spokesman said the message was "most unusual."

"The Holy Father is saddened to learn of the great loss of life and immense suffering caused to so many families by the accident in Southgate," the telegram said.

"His Holiness invokes eternal rest in God's loving mercy upon those who have died in strength and consolation for the survivors and bereaved."

Wife of supper club fire victim released from care

Mrs. Linda Daly, whose husband Harold died in the Beverly Hills Supper Club blaze Saturday night, was released from St. Elisabeth Hospital in Newport, Ky., Friday.

Mrs. Daly had been hospitalized since the tragic fire that claimed 161 lives. She was hospitalized, suffering from smoke inhalation.

Funeral services for Mrs. Daly's husband, a data processing manager at the Mac Tools, Inc., plant in Washington C.H. will be held Monday at the Wilson-Schramm Memorial Home in Middletown.

The 30-year-old Mrs. Daly resides at 919 Briar Ave.

Another Washington C.H. couple, preparing to attend singer John Davidson's show at the Kentucky night club at the time of the tragic fire, remained in "fair" condition at two Kentucky hospitals.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Raine, 269 Old Springfield Road, were with the Dalys the night of the fire. Mr. Raine is also an employee of Mac Tool, Inc., and Mrs. Raine is the daughter of Paul W. Elrod, the firm's president.

Mrs. Raine is presently being treated at Booth Hospital in Covington, Ky., and is expected to be released soon. Her husband is a patient in St. Luke's hospital in Newport, Ky., and he is expected to remain there for several more days. Both are suffering from smoke inhalation.

The funeral services for Daly will be held at the family's convenience and no visiting hours have been set. The family is requesting that contributions be made to the Fayette County Life Squad in lieu of flowers.

Saccharin ban delay sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is being asked to approve legislation that would delay for 1½ years a proposed government ban on the use of saccharin as a food additive.

Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., said Friday he plans to introduce a bill that would have the effect of heading off the Food and Drug Administration's plans to prohibit the sale and distribution of saccharin in food and drinks, beginning in July.

Rogers said his bill also will direct the National Academy of Science's Institute of Medicine to review how accurately scientific tests done on animals can be related to humans.

The FDA announced plans earlier this year to ban saccharin as an artificial sweetener in food and drinks, permitting its sale only as a non-prescription drug. The action was spurred by Canadian studies showing that high doses of saccharin can cause cancer in rats.

Rogers said he thinks the government is moving too hastily against the sugar substitute.

"The American public needs to know and understand the basis on which any such (FDA) decision is made," the congressman said, maintaining he does not use saccharin.

Rogers said he believes the moratorium proposal could pass Congress quickly. He said the bill, which has not been introduced, will make it clear that the FDA would not be prohibited from taking action on the labeling of saccharin.

Rogers said the sole purpose of his legislation is to provide an 18-month moratorium on FDA action until all information can be reviewed.

One year after enactment of the bill, he said, the Institute of Medicine would report its recommendations for legislative or regulatory action to the Congress.

Rogers acknowledged that he took into consideration public resistance to the proposed ban.

"I have received thousands of letters protesting the proposed ban," he said. "While I recognize that the majority of these letters result from a carefully orchestrated and heavily financed industry effort, there is no question that a substantial portion of the American public is outraged by this decision."

Asked if he might have reservations about introducing a bill which could result in prolonged use of a possible cancer-causing substance, Rogers replied: "If I thought it would have an adverse affect, I would not introduce the legislation."

Rogers, chairman of the House Commerce Committee's health and environment panel, said hearings on his bill would begin shortly.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., chairman of the health and scientific research subcommittee of the Senate, will open hearings Tuesday on the proposed ban.

Cuban relations to move slowly

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials believe full diplomatic relations between the United States and Cuba are still a long way off despite signs of a marked decline in mutual hostility.

As expected, the State Department announced Friday a U.S.-Cuban agreement to exchange diplomats. Then, in a surprise development, Department spokesman John Tattner said Cuba was releasing 10 of the 30 U.S. prisoners detained on the island.

He said none of the seven U.S. prisoners held on political charges would be set free.

Names of the released prisoners were withheld while next-of-kin were being notified.

Panel to finalize energy plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, who once balked at a Senate attempt to strip his proposed energy secretary of the power to set prices, is now championing the Senate's decision to do just that.

That's because while the Senate voted Friday to give those powers to a commission, it gave the president veto powers over their decisions.

Under a measure approved Friday by the House, the president would not have that power.

Both houses rejected Carter's original proposal that the new secretary should have broad authority to set energy prices himself.

The man Carter has picked to head the new department, energy adviser James R. Schlesinger, says the veto provision is important.

He said the administration will try to convince members of a conference committee working on a compromise bill to go along with the Senate.

"We will make our views known very strongly," Schlesinger told reporters after the House joined the Senate in trimming his power as the nation's first energy secretary.

The House-Senate conference committee will work out differences between the two bills setting up the new department, sought by President Carter to carry out a national energy policy.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., floor manager for the House bill, predicted final congressional enactment of the energy reorganization — one of the largest ever in government — before Congress votes on the specific energy proposals that Carter wants the new agency to implement.

Brooks said that even though the energy secretary would not be as powerful as Carter had hoped, "the bill goes a long way to assuring that there will be a uniform energy policy."

The House approved the bill after voting to limit the new department's existence to five years — unless Congress votes in the meantime to extend it.

Although sponsors of the bill opposed the cutoff date, Rep. James T. Broyhill, R-N.C., who proposed it, said Congress could easily vote to keep the department if the Congress decides it's doing a good job.

There is no such provision in the Senate bill. This too is an issue that will confront the conference committee.

The plan to give all this power to the energy secretary ran into trouble in Congress almost from the outset, especially among defenders of the Federal Power Commission, the independent regulatory agency Congress set up to regulate natural gas pipeline rates and some forms of electric power.

The Senate responded to this criticism by voting to give the pricing powers of the FPC to a three-member commission within the new department, which would also have some authority over the wellhead price of domestic oil.

The administration first strongly resisted the proposal, but eased off somewhat when the Senate agreed to give the energy secretary the right to make recommendations to the commission and the President the power to veto its decisions.

But still, White House lobbyists were hopeful the House would go along with the President's proposal to give these powers to the energy secretary.

It didn't, voting instead to create a five-member commission that would be even more powerful than the Senate-proposed three-member board.

Although the commission in the House bill would not have any say over oil prices, its decisions on natural gas prices and interstate electric power rates would be final — with no chance of a presidential veto.

Both House and Senate bills follow Carter's plan to consolidate energy programs now scattered throughout the government in the new department. Three agencies would be abolished outright: the FPC, the Energy Research and Development Administration and the Federal Energy Administration.

Their employees would be guaranteed jobs in the new department, expected to have a workforce of 20,000 and a budget of $10.6 billion.

The administration sought to give the new energy secretary the power to regulate and set prices for oil, natural gas and a number of other forms of energy.

President turns up family horse thief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Horse thieves? In the President's family?

Jimmy Carter says so. But he's not saying who they were. Or how many.

His aides say it's a family secret.

Carter was presented Friday with his family tree, traced by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon). Genealogies are important to the Mormon religion.

It's no secret that the President's great-great grandfather shot a man. Or that the President's grandfather was shot to death. But the President, maybe as a joke, added a touch of mystery to his roots when he told church officials:

"We've uncovered some embarrassing ancestors in the not-too-distant-past. (There were) some horse thieves and some people killed on Saturday night. One of my relatives, unfortunately, was even in the newspaper business."

If the horse thieves are a joke, the White House press office is going along. It refers questioners to published accounts of violence in Carter's family. But it says the identities of the horse thieves are secrets only the President can reveal.

The church isn't talking.

The Atlanta Journal and Constitution give the following accounts:

Wiley Carter, the President's great-great-grandfather, was acquitted of an 1841 murder charge in Warren County, Ga. He was accused of shooting a man named Usry, whose first name was not recorded, in a dispute over a slave.

Witnesses said Usry accused Carter's wife of infidelity.

The sheriff testified that Carter and Usry raised their guns at the same time.

Wiley's son, Walker, "was killed right after the Civil War in a drunken row with his partner over the proceeds of a flying jenny (a simplified merry-go-round) they owned and operated," according to one researcher interviewed by the Atlanta newspapers.

Fire delays train traffic

An early morning fire behind the Thomas Lumber Co. in Jeffersonville held up DT&I Railroad Co. trains Saturday.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported that between 2:30 and 2:45 a.m. a train started a fire in dry brush along railroad tracks behind the Jeffersonville lumber company.

Donald French of Jeffersonville telephoned in the fire report to the sheriff's department at 3:30 a.m. and the Jeffersonville Fire Department was sent to the scene. The fire was easily extinguished, but Jeffersonville Fire Chief Lindy Sharrett said it was not safe to let another train travel on the tracks until the area was inspected.

Richard Kimmel of the DT&I Railroad Co. was contacted and scheduled trains were held up until the area was deemed safe.

Ozone threat reported worse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Residues from aerosol sprays may be doing more damage to the earth's protective ozone layer than was previously believed, a government scientist says.

At the same time, Dr. Carleton J. Howard of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration said Friday that scientists may be exaggerating the ozone threat posed by high-flying supersonic aircraft.

Ozone is a form of oxygen in the upper atmosphere that shields the earth from deadly ultraviolet radiation from the sun. There is concern that some manmade chemicals destroy some ozone, possibly leading to increased rates of skin cancer as well as biological and climate changes.

The 15,456,868th Model T

You had to be wary of that crank. Sometimes, while being whirled, it would snap back at peril of a broken arm or bashed nose. In the second decade of the century, though, many Americans took this and related vicissitudes in stride for the sake of tooling about in one of Henry Ford's shiny black Tin Lizzies. Later the Model T got a starter button on the floor. But basically it remained the same all during its career as the world's first mass-produced automobile — a career so successful that when the Model T gave way to the Model A 15,456,868 had rolled off the assembly lines. The last one was produced in 1927, half a century ago. By then Ford's revolutionary methods had put Americans well on the way to an automobile-centered lifestyle. For better or worse, it is an anniversary to be remembered.

For safer, quieter mowers

The controversy over proposed federal standards to make power mowers safer and quieter exemplifies a common dilemma. Again the question posed is this: How much shall we pay for increased safety and environmental benefits? In January the Environmental Protection Agency started the ball rolling to put mandatory noise standards in effect within two years. The Consumer Product Safety Commission is proposing new safety regulations to reduce the accident toll, which runs to 50,000 power mower injuries annually at present. The Outdoor Power Equipment Institute maintains that the cost would be prohibitive. A study commissioned by this trade organization predicts that the changes would markedly increase mower prices - up to 35 per cent in some cases. Suppose, for the sake of argument, that this prediction is accurate.

Would it be worthwhile to the consumer to pay another $30 or $40 for a mower that was less noisy and less risky than present models? It is a subjective question that implies others: Is a quieter neighborhood worth paying for? Would it make sense to pay more - a few dollars a year over the life of the mower - to reduce the chances of having a family member badly injured? The answer to these questions, we think, is decidedly yes.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.
SUNDAY, JUNE 5
ARIES (March 21 to April 20)
After some early morning confusion, day should turn out to be surprisingly productive. You also stand to gain through personal relationships.
TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)
Stellar influences only fairly generous, so you will have to provide your own momentum to carry on. Neither too many problems nor much opposition indicated.
GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)
Someone may try to place a burdensome imposition on you. Reject what you consider unfair, but graciously offer alternatives for handling.
CANCER (June 22 to July 23)
Mild influences indicate a so-so day unless you do something about it. But, in your search for more stimulating activities, don't go off on wild tangents.
LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)
A day calling for the utmost discretion. Taking issue with associates - even if you KNOW you are right - could have bitter consequences.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Keep enlarging your sphere of contacts - particularly among those who share your interests and contribute to your personality development.
LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Correspondence, meetings, creative pursuits, good fellowship and cultural interests head a long list of favored activities. A really good day!
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Your planets now stimulate keen and quick thinking; generate inspiring ideas which could be of great benefit to organizations or to your community.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Be careful not to accept suggestions which seem intriguing at first glance but which, at a second, could prove to have very shaky foundations. Evaluate all carefully.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
If you've been wanting for some time to do something special, you now have the chance to do so with more assurance. Don't be too aggressive, however, or you could upset the proverbial applecart.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Great activity - along with a few snags! Prepare to expect the unexpected, however, your innate ingenuity and foresight will see you through.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)
A sparkling outlook for those of you who march with the progressive-minded and aim for top goals only. Maritime and other outdoor interests highly favored.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly ingenious, adaptable and gregarious by nature. You have a wealth of talents but may be too impulsive at times, or so restless that you drop projects without giving them time to prove themselves. Your imagination is vivid and you put a touch of originality and finesse to whatever you do. While you are just as creatively inclined as other Geminians and could make as enviable a success in the worlds of literature, music, the theater or decorating, you, unlike many others of your Sign, have an unusually good business head and are something of a wizard in finances. While you are a good planner, many of your greatest successes are the result of "brainstorms," which can be truly brilliant. The world expects much of the Gemini - and he expects much of himself.

MONDAY, JUNE 6
ARIES (March 21 to April 20)

Day calls for your best judgment. You may feel hesitant about some suggestions made, but look into them anyway. They COULD prove of value.
TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)
Some unforeseen situations in business matters. Beware of instability, overemotionalism. Consult with others as to the best way of getting back in the groove.
GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)
Fine Mercury influences! Enterprise, resourcefulness and initiative should spark the day and give you a brand new outlook on all activities.
CANCER (June 22 to July 23)
You should have fairly clear sailing - especially in carefully organized ventures. Direct your skills and talents toward worthwhile accomplishment.
LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)
There will be tendencies to rush into visionary schemes, impulsiveness generally. Avoid! Put your guard up early and KEEP it up!
VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Planetary influences now stimulate inspirational ideas, intuition, imagination. Inventors, architects, creative workers in general especially favored.
LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Leave nothing to chance; stress your innate meticulousness for detail and accuracy. In discussions, try to persuade gently, not with force.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Do not conclude a matter before all facts are known or a full chance for research given. You could be tricked into inaccurate moves if not wary.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Some challenges indicated in your work area. To handle, study ALL psychological factors. Your motivations as well as those of others will be an essential part of the picture.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Fine influences! Be ready to act when an opening or opportunity of worth appears. You make friends easily; should turn this gift to good advantage.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Stars now stimulate your quick mind alertness to unusual trends and off-beat situations. Taking advantage of this, you can now strike a new note in distinguished action.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)
Some situations are changing. Good organization of work matters essential. Direct energies into channels which show the most promise.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with the mind, and usually the inclination, for intellectual pursuits; could be an outstanding writer, scientist, educator, research specialist or jurist. You could also shine in the theater (as actor, dramatist or director), or in any profession involving travel. However, you are an extremely restless individual and your eventual success will depend upon the steadiness and stamina for routine which you must develop yourself since, inherently, you loathe tedium and the humdrum so necessary at times. You are an extremely gregarious person, can meet and captivate people without even trying, and you are an expert at handling novel situations. You can pick brilliant ideas "out of the blue," put them in a nutshell and make them saleable. Traits to curb: extravagance and hypersensitivity.

Cornwallis, who had taken New York, commented that "it would be soon enough to bag the fox." He was referring to General Washington who gathered his forces and made their way around Trenton to capture Princeton. After this success Washington was in high spirits and cried, "'Tis a fine fox chase, boys!" Wouldn't you like to relive these exciting events by observing February as American History Month with the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Women to discuss movement's future

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Women of all backgrounds and political philosophies will gather in Columbus this month to discuss the future of the women's movement. Feminists, antiabortionists and "women who have never been to a women's meeting before" are expected to attend the Ohio International Women's Year meeting June 11-12. There will be facilities for 6,000 at the Ohio Fairgrounds, but planners say they are not sure how many will attend. Registrations will be accepted on the first day of the conference. "Men can attend the conference and vote. The event is federally funded and discrimination is prohibited," Rosemary Palmer, media coordinator, said.

Similar conventions are being held in every state this spring and summer to pinpoint the major concerns of women. Congress allocated $5 million for the project which will culminate in Houston, Tex. Nov. 18-21 with the national IWY conference. Ohio received $100,000. The effort is an extension of International Women's Year which was 1975. "The whole idea of the convention is to come out with resolutions to be fed into the National Commission for IWY for a national plan of action," Mary Miller, Ohio IWY chairperson said.

"Another responsibility of the state meeting is to elect 56 delegates for the national conference." The resolutions will deal with 18 different areas including the arts, economics, education, energy, the home, media, law, politics and the labor force. Members of a range of organizations are expected, including the League of Women Voters, the National Organization for Women, Right-to-Life, Ohio Commission on the Status of Women, and anti-Equal Rights Amendments groups. "We're also trying to get a lot of women who have never been to a women's meeting before," Mrs. Miller said. "We're making a special effort to get low income, Hispanic, and Appalachian representatives."

William Bebb, Ohio's 19th governor— 1846-1849—was the third native Ohioan to be elected to that office. His father, Edward, who had emigrated to America from Wales in 1795, was the first settler in the Welsh settlement of Paddy's Run, the present town of Shandon in Butler County. The future governor, born Dec. 8, 1802, is said to have been the first white child born in Butler County west of the Great Miami River. —AP

Cereal leaf beetle parasites released in Fayette County

By JOHN P. GRUBER
County Extension Agent.
Agriculture

For the second year in a row, Fayette County is participating in a statewide program to establish biological controls for cereal leaf beetle. The cereal leaf beetle can be massively destructive. A moderate infestation of the pest can ruin 25 per cent of an oats crop in a few days.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health

Inspection Service (APHIS) have been raising four species of wasp parasites that will provide a biological means of reducing cereal leaf beetle populations.

These cereal leaf beetle parasites were released in three oats fields on farms of James Perrill, of Bloomingburg, and Dr. Robert Little, of Jeffersonville. Last year the parasites were released on farms of Jack Frost and Harry Jacks.

The parasitic wasps inject their eggs into cereal leaf beetle larvae or eggs.

When the young hatch, they kill the beetle host.

Farmers in about half of Ohio's counties participated in the release program. On a large scale the parasites are being established in an area stretching east to New York and South to Virginia. In a few years the parasite colony is large enough to control populations of cereal leaf beetle.

A LOOK at crop conditions in Fayette County is certainly a look at extremes this year. It's difficult to comment of the situation with one statement. A few localities (very few) have excellent stands of corn. Much of the early (mid-April) planted corn is looking real good. Later plantings are starved for rain and look ragged.

The bean crop looks pretty spotty right now. Many areas in the county need a good rain to germinate beans laying in dry ground.

Extreme contrast is the term for Fayette County. Thursday I was in a soybean field that had water still standing from last Sunday's rain in the New Holland area. That same day I was in a second field that hadn't received any rain for three to four weeks.

This dry weather in many areas of the county is causing weed control problems. Herbicides that were not incorporated before planting need rain to make them work. As usual, it seems that weeds will grow when nothing else will.

CATTLEFEEDERS and dairymen, don't forget that the registration period for the beef referendum starts Monday, June 6 and runs through Friday, June 17. The vote will be held July 5 through July 15. Registration and voting are both at the County ASCS Office on Columbus Avenue. You must register in June to vote in July.

ALFALFA weevil were chewing pretty good on alfalfa ahead of the first cutting. Alfalfa fields that have been cut need to have regrowth checked for signs of continued weevil feeding. If there are very many present, a stubble spray could be needed.

CORN AND Soybean Club entries are coming in rather slow due to current crop conditions. Entries need to be made soon if you plan to participate this year.

Down On The Farm

Saturday, June 4, 1977

Washington C. H. (O.) Record-Herald - Page 4

Copter crop duster helping farmers

WAKEMAN, Ohio (AP) — Speedy crop dusting by helicopter is helping Ohio farmers keep up with their spring planting schedules which have been accelerated by the recent good weather.

"The weather has been so good the farmers are planting faster than we can spray," said Roger Wallace, manager of the Huron Landmark Inc. elevator at nearby Clarksville in Huron County.

Herbicides spraying to kill weeds in corn, soybean and oat fields is one of the specialties of Heck Flying Service based in Willard.

Although spraying by helicopter is more expensive than that done by ground vehicles, Richard Weisenberger, Landmark's field man, said that the speed of spraying by helicopter has convinced him to talk to other farmers to try to adopt the aerial method.

"It costs $4.50 an acre to do it by copter and $2.65 when we do it with trucks. But we just can't catch up," Weisenberger said. "At least this way it gets done."

Two men in an aerial team can cover more than 600 acres in one day, with one man driving a truck loaded with spray material and showing the pilot where the farms are located.

The helicopter carries 60 gallons of spray—enough to cover 12 acres before it has to land for a refill from the truck.

Robert Chase, agricultural representative for Heck, said one team ran into an unusual problem while working on emergency job in Ashland County last week.

The team left the helicopter out in the field "to get an early start the next day," he said, but when they came the next day, "the copter was surrounded by a whole herd of cows and one very big bull."

"They couldn't get them to move away, so they drove the truck between the bull and the plane and Jesse (Matthews) got in. The noise of the engine finally drove them away," said Chase.

He said another advantage of helicopters is that these aircrafts can be loaded on the spraying site, in contrast with an airplane which has to fly back to a field.

Last week, Chase said, the helicopters were spraying for alfalfa weevils. He said Heck soon will be spraying in Michigan woods under contract with the state of Michigan, which is trying to stem an outbreak of gypsy moths.

Econogram

Consumer prices increase

Consumer prices increased 0.8 per cent during April following increases of 0.6 per cent in March, 1 per cent in Feb. and 0.8 per cent in Jan. The effect was to push the index of consumer prices up to 179.6 per cent of the 1967 average. This is 6.8 per cent above the year earlier average. Inflation appears to be shaping up as one of the most pressing current economic problems. Major factor behind April increase was a 1.5 per cent jump in food prices, following sizeable gains in the previous 3 months. Prices for fresh vegetables and beef were biggest gainers. If weather conditions are unfavorable this summer, food prices will likely continue to lead the price index. However, favorable weather should moderate price escalations. Nonfood prices rose 0.6 per cent in Apr. pointing to a basic inflation rate around 7 per cent.

International payments deficit for the U.S. of $10 to $12 billion on a current account basis is projected for 1977. The U.S. current account was deficit by $604 million in 1976 following a surplus of $11.7 billion in 1975. The current account is composed of the trade in goods and services plus foreign aid grants and government pensions to Americans living abroad.

Agricultural exports were at a record setting pace during the first half of the fiscal year of Oct. to Mar. But increased imports reduced the trade balance. Export values of $12.7 billion were 8 per cent above a year earlier levels. Soybeans accounted for about 80 per cent of the gain in exports. Lower prices and volume of wheat reduced wheat exports by 44 per cent. Corn volume was up slightly at slightly lower prices. Agricultural imports of $6.4 bil. soared 30 per cent higher than a year ago. Coffee prices were the major factor in increased imports as coffee accounted for over one third of the total value of imports.

USSR winter wheat crop could set a new record this year on what appears to be the largest harvested area on record. Soviet press reports that 23.2 mil. hectares (57.3 mil. acres) of winter wheat had been top dressed by late April. This would put the potential harvested area 10 per cent above the previous record of 30.7 mil. hectares in 1971 and 33 per cent above last year. Assuming a yield of 2.35 tons per hectare in the winter crop the total harvest would reach about 50 mil. tons. Last year 49.4 mil. tons were harvested with an average yield of 2.70 tons per hectare. Both corn and barley acreage appear to be down from last year.

Wheat crop supplies may reach 3.15 bil. bu. in the '77-78 market year. This compares to 2.8 bil. last year and 2.14 bil. as recently as 1974-75. The large supply situation will need to be solved by

High farm price supports under fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz says the Carter administration is on the right track in opposing what he considers excessively high price supports included in the legislation now in Congress.

Butz, now lecturing at Purdue University, said in an interview Tuesday that, "if I read the signals correctly," the Senate farm bill includes supports "substantially above the level" President Carter has said he would approve.

"The House version is not quite that bad, but still is above the level that the administration wants," Butz said.

"If, perchance, they compromise some place close to the Senate bill, all I know (is) the President has said that he would veto it and I think from what I hear he means what he says," Butz said. "Frankly, I think he should."

Butz made "just a courtesy call" Tuesday to his Democratic successor, Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, who also has spoken against having price supports higher than the Carter proposals for such major crops as wheat and corn.

After serving nearly five years in the Nixon-Ford cabinet, Butz resigned last October following controversy over a racial slur he had made some months earlier.

Butz, who remains a staunch advocate of so-called market-oriented programs instead of federal subsidies to farmers, said he favors Carter's vetoing a farm bill like the Senate one on two grounds.

"First, because of the cost of it. Second, because it would get prices up to the point that will make it very difficult to maintain exports, and we simply have to maintain exports at a high level to make our domestic farm programs succeed."

Bergland does not disagree with those points and, indeed, has expressed support of market-oriented programs. But Bergland insists that Butz's policies did not go far enough in helping farmers to iron out the "peaks and valleys" of the market system so that risks to producers can be minimized.

Butz, 67, said he talked about U.S. farm trade with Bergland and was pleased that his successor plans to visit the Far East next month. The trip includes an appearance at a World Food Council meeting in Manila June 17-22.

See maple sugar prices increasing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm production of maple syrup this year is up 32 per cent from 1976 but prices to consumers probably will be higher than ever.

Syrup production is estimated at 1,221,000 gallons, up from 927,000 last year, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday.

Rhodes shuns voter fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Any attempt to overturn an election day registration law by referendum will have to go forward without Gov. James A. Rhodes, who says he will disassociate himself from such a movement.

"I will not take any part in it," Rhodes said Friday, when asked about talk that opponents will take the issue to the November ballot.

Majority Democrats overrode the governor's line-item veto of the election day registration portion of the wide-ranging bill last Tuesday.

However, a recently formed organization called Ohioans for Preservation of Honest Elections is considering a signature drive to place the issue of repeal on the ballot.

"That's their business," Rhodes said. "I will not take any position."

In an interview, the governor was philosophical about the emergence of a proven veto-proof Democratic majority in the General Assembly.

"They stood by a principle and so did

I," he said.
All 62 Democrats in the House and all 21 in the Senate voted to override three line-item vetoes of the legislation.

Over 1 million black Americans served in the Armed Forces during World War II. This was three times as many as had served during World War I.

Name celebrant at special mass

SOMERSET, Ohio (AP) — The Most Rev. Edward J. Herrmann, bishop of the Columbus Roman Catholic Diocese, will be the principal celebrant Sunday at a mass observing the sesquicentennial of Holy Trinity Church in this Perry County town.

Holy Trinity's first church was built in 1826 and 1827 and was started only eight years after nearby St. Joseph's was built in 1818 as the first Catholic church in Ohio.

Other events planned this weekend to celebrate the sesquicentennial included a fish fry Friday night, a ham and chicken dinner Saturday and a buffet Sunday afternoon.

Miss Sauer Circle 3 hostess

Circle Three of First Presbyterian Church met Thursday evening in the home of Miss Mary Sauer. She was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. Mildred Rogers.

Mrs. C. L. Musser opened the meeting with devotions then called on Mrs. Rogers who read the Mission report concerning the Hudson River Presbytery.

Mrs. Howard Perrill read an account of the tragic fate of the late Rev. Donald McClure, retired United Presbyterian Missionary, at the hands of communist bandits in Ethiopia.

Mrs. Musser shared with the group an article from the May issue of A D 1977 magazine entitled From the Eye of the Storm which was submitted by Mrs. Gerald Wheat.

Mrs. Wheat was in charge of the study period and chose as her topic a segment in the life of Presbyterian Minister John Witherspoon, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction and a social hour followed.

Piano and voice students present spring recital

A combination piano and voice recital was presented by the students of Mrs. Karen Burke in Grace Methodist Church parlor recently. The vocal selections were sung by Miss Lynne Acton. Featured was a medley of popular show tunes and a song composed by the performer herself entitled "Black-Eyed Susan."

Piano solos featured Margaret Peterson playing "Bless the Beasts and the Children" and "Petite Russian Rhapsody" as adapted by John Thompson.

Heather Yeoman presented "Echo Waltz" and "Au Claire de la Lune" as her musical selections. Angela Pollard played "Tick Tock Clock" and "Chimes" from the Glover series. John Peterson played Chopin's moving "Prelude in C Minor." Mary Ragland followed with a popular Barry Manilow song inspired by this Chopin masterpiece: "Could it be Magic." The final selection of the afternoon was the memorable "Deep Purple" arranged as a piano duet and performed by Margaret Peterson and Mrs. Burke.

A colorful blue-green floral centerpiece accented the springtime decor as friends and family enjoyed refreshments served by Mrs. Urcel Burke. Miss Lynne Acton presided at the punch bowl.

UMW hear Mr. Whitaker

Mrs. Kenneth Warner, president, welcomed members and guests to the June meeting of United Methodist Women of Grace United Methodist church. Deer Circle was hostess for the carry-in luncheon that preceded the meeting.

Reverend Phillip Brooks was accompanist for hymn singing. Mrs. Warner read the poem, "Where There is Love", by Helen Steiner Rice.

Mrs. Charles Wagner introduced the speaker, Mr. Carl Whitaker, Superintendent of Fayette County Board of Mental Retardation School. He gave an over-all picture of the school, which was started in 1967. The first location was in the Presbyterian church, then in the Middle School building and now is housed in the former Sunnyside school building on S. Fayette St. The purpose of the school is to better the social and personal skills of handicapped children.

There are 64 pupils in the total program. There are five teachers and teacher aides. The superintendents of the two public schools are responsible for identifying and placing retarded children in the proper program. They are assisted by an Education Planning Committee.

There is a home-base service for those who cannot leave home. There are ten in this program which is funded by Title I Project.

There is a mini-team composed of a speech therapist, an occupational therapist and a behavioral management specialist that serves Fayette, Clinton and Highland counties. This program is funded through September.

There is an adult program for which there is no age limit. The purpose of this program is to better personal skills and to train for work employment.

The entire program received funds from federal, state and local governments.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Dewey Sheidler. She read excerpts from "Angel Unaware", by Dale Evans, to illustrate the theme, "and a little child shall lead them."

The July meeting will be a picnic in the church courtyard.

Willing Workers Golden Lamb luncheon guests

Ten members and four guests of the Bookwalter Willing Workers motored to Lebanon on Thursday for lunch at The Golden Lamb, and a visit to the Gift Shop. Members also visited the Sugar Run Nursery at Morrow.

Those enjoying the day were members Doris Garringer, Hazel Garringer, Jean Warner, Lillian Ervin, Martha Allen, Florence Seibert, Carmel Bowsher, Esther Stockwell, Lois Coe and Agnes Ford.

Guests present were Mary Brocke, Mrs. Allen Garringer and daughters, Jill and Julie.

The group will meet again on July 7 with Mrs. Florence Seibert.

Airplane ride is gift

Taking his first airplane ride was the highlight of the day and a birthday gift for Greg Fitzpatrick with his little friend, Chuck Older, and Greg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fitzpatrick. Greg was five years old May 31.

Later, a party was held in his home, and a Mickey Mouse theme prevailed. Cupcakes in ice cream cones, and ice cream were served to Jill Long, Doug Bennett, Brian Baughn, David Ward, Amanda Hahn, Brian and Matthew Doyle, Grant Roby, Jimmy Gauldin and Eric Landers. Mrs. Fitzpatrick was assisted by Mrs. Larry Long and Mrs. Eddie Wheaton.

In Spring a young girl's fancy

ALL DRESSED UP — and lots of places to go. This spring finery goes everywhere, and whatever the event, the 4 to 6X lassie will look lovely in this peach zip-back A-line princess dress with matching unlined coat; both are elegantly frosted with touches of pure white lace. Easy care, too, since it's 100 per cent polyester crepe that washes and dries in a jiffy.

Bridge winners are announced

The Washington Country Club was the setting for the weekly bridge-luncheon, when 25 were present and three guests. The guests were Mrs. Charles Brownell and Mrs. Frances Core, both of Sabina, and Miss Marilyn King of Westerville.

Arrangements of roses and other spring flowers centered the bridge tables. Winners for the afternoon were Mrs. McKinley Kirk, Mrs. Frank Reichelderfer and Mrs. Aublin Hedges.

The committee was composed of Mrs. James Chakeres, Mrs. Albert Bryant and Mrs. Ben Wood.

Arts & Crafts Club

When members of the Arts and Crafts Club met for their monthly meeting at Mrs. Gilbert Biddle's home, they planned the year books for 1977-78. Many interesting projects were suggested by the members, such as macrame, stitchery and tolle painting. The meetings are usually held the last Tuesday of the month. The June meeting will be a trip to Columbus to tour Strawberry House.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Biddle.

Class of 1972 (MTHS) plans 5-year reunion

The Miami Trace High School graduating Class of 1972 has completed plans for its five-year reunion and dance.

The event has been set for July 2 at the Mahan Building, Fayette County Fairgrounds. The band, Native Son, will provide music for the evening.

Class members who have not been contacted yet, may receive additional information by calling Mike Staybrook (335-7276), Jill Doyle or Wendi Williams Howard (335-7782), or Randy Woods (335-1932).

Future Homemakers hold picnic at park

The Miami Trace Chapter of The Future Homemakers of America held a coming-going party at Deer Creek Park. The party was planned for the seniors who will be leaving, and the eighth graders who will be joining FHA next year. The day was full of fun, food and friendship. The picnic was enjoyed by all.

The world's record banana split was assembled in St. Paul, Minn., in 1973. It spanned a mile, required 33,000 scoops of ice cream and 10,580 bananas.

Yellowish color on oak trees not normal

By JOHN P. GRUBER
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Ever wonder why many of the pin oak trees around town always have a pale green to yellowish color in their leaves? Some folks think that's their normal color. It's not.

The yellow appearance to the leaves is caused by iron deficiency. The technical name for the problem is iron chlorosis. I've had a couple of calls about the problem recently. I've also noticed many trees around that show the typical symptoms.

Iron chlorosis occurs most often in pin oak, white oak, red maple, roses, azalea, rhododendron, and sweet gum. The problem may occur as the result of one or a combination of causes.

More about these causes later. First some explanation about the iron deficiency and why the leaves turn yellow. Chlorophyll is responsible for the green color of plants and is the source of plant food and energy. Iron is necessary for the formation of chlorophyll. When the amount of iron available to plants is inadequate for normal growth, leaves become pale green, yellow or white, and eventually brown, particularly between the veins. Mildly affected plants become unsightly and grow poorly. Several affected plants fail to grow, flower for fruit and may die from lack of iron.

Now for the causes. The condition may often be due to high soil pH which makes it possible for other elements to interfere with the absorption of iron, rather than to a lack of iron in the soil. Iron chlorosis can also be caused by over watering or poor drainages. The problem may occur by actual deficiency of iron, or by addition of excessive amounts of lime or phosphate to certain soils. Soils with pH above 7.0 (alkaline soils) are a particular problem.

Control measures are varied. If wet feet is the problem (over watering or poor drainage) the cause should be corrected. Let me make a note here that with the dry spring poor drainage is probably not the problem with most local trees.

Soil pH around some homes in this area is above 7.0. For permanent control this can be lowered by annually applying to the soil ammonium sulfate, aluminum sulfate, or sulfur. Ammonium sulfate is used at the rate of 10 pounds per 1,000 square feet and sulfur at 25 pounds per tree. Before trying this method a soil test should be made to be sure pH is the problem.

Once drainage of pH problems are corrected, applications of iron may not be necessary. If however plants remain chlorotic, iron can be supplied to plants in different forms.

The two principal types of iron-containing materials are iron chelates organic in nature, and inorganic compounds in soluble form such as ferrous sulfate.

Iron chelates are marketed under various trade names and in various formulations. The iron in chelates remains available to plants when the chelates are placed in the soil. Some formulations of iron chelate can be applied to the foliage, however, this approach is usually not as permanent as soil applications. Follow the manufacturers recommendations for amount to use. Some fertilizers contain iron chelates and use of these with iron susceptible plants is recommended.

Ferrous sulfate can also be applied to the soil or foliage. For foliar application, use 2½ ounces of ferrous sulfate in three gallons of water. This treatment will probably require reapplication a number of times. A convenient way to determine how much ferrous sulfate is needed for soil application is to measure the diameter of the periphery of the tree at the drip line (ends of branches). If the treatment is made when the trees or shrubs are dormant, use one gallon of ferrous sulfate solution (1 pound of ferrous sulfate per gallon of water) for each foot of the diameter of the periphery. If the treatment is made during the growing season, use one-half gallon per foot diameter. The solution can be applied over the surface of the soil; however, it's more effective if holes are drilled and the solution poured in them. Drill holes three feet apart around the periphery and deep enough to hold ½-1 gallon of solution.

Encapsulated ferric ammonium citrate inserted into Pin Oak trees in a spiral pattern around the base of the trunk will prevent iron chlorosis for up to three years, according to recent research. The small wounds caused by drilling and capsule insertion should heal in one season. This treatment is recommended for only pin oak trees at this time.

Medicaid fraud examples aired

WASHINGTON (AP) — A doctor claims he performed six tonsillectomies on the same patient last year. The government paid the bills.

A pharmacist filed a claim for 120 prescription pills a day for 204 days running, also supposedly for one person.

Both cases were picked out by computers searching files as the government prepares for its first nationwide investigation of fraud and abuse in the Medicaid program.

The government estimates taxpayers throw away $1 billion a year in state and federal Medicaid charges for care the poor don't receive.

Doctors and pharmacists will be special targets of the investigation because they are believed to account for the greatest losses, says a spokesman for Tom Morris, inspector general of the department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The spokesman said nursing homes, laboratories, clinics, hospitals and dentists who are paid under Medicaid for care they give the poor will be scrutinized.

Administration sources said Morris' office, created by Congress last year after widespread reports of Medicaid and welfare losses, is informing governors and state and local officials of the probe, hoping to win their support.

Computers have been examining all Medicaid bills for the year ending last February, picking out suspicious looking cases, sources said.

They added that the names picked out are being verified to preclude technical errors. Investigators, along with state and federal prosecutors, will make detailed examinations of the cases.

Among examples of suspected fraud and abuse are double billings, charges for prescriptions that apparently never were filled and payments by the government for patients who don't exist.

The Medicaid program to provide care for those who can't afford it is administered by the states, with the federal government paying an average of 55 per cent of the total cost.

Public hearings on water slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency will hold public hearings in Canton June 22 and Columbus June 24 on proposed amendments to the Mahoning River Basin water quality standards.

The amendments would revise standards and use designations for the lower Main Stem of the Mahoning River and certain tributaries. The remainder of the river basin would adhere to existing standards.

The hearings will be conducted by a panel of EPA technical, scientific and legal specialists in the field of water pollution control.

Fryman unhappy with Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Woodie Fryman says he would rather be traded then continue to remain an inactive member of the Cincinnati Reds pitching staff.

"I still think I throw the ball pretty good," the 37-year-old Fryman said.

WOODIE FRYMAN

"Better than a lot of left-handers in the big leagues. I know I haven't got much time left, but there are clubs that can make better use of me than the Reds and this club knows that."

Fryman was a key player in the off-season trade that sent Tony Perez to Montreal. He was 13-13 for the Expos last year and had said, "If I pitch the way I did last year, there's no reason why I can't win 15 to 18 games for the Reds."

Fryman was supposed to take up the slack left by the departure of Don Gullett, who played out his option and signed with the New York Yankees.

Things did not work out that way however and Fryman won only two of his first six decisions while compiling an earned run average of 5.73.

That got him demoted to the bullpen, but the actual demotion was not as irritating as the way Fryman said it was done.

"I listen to the radio and read in the newspaper that I'm in the bullpen, but no one came up to me and told me," Fryman said.

The pitcher was so irate that after eight days of not being called in to pitch, he went to see manager Sparky Anderson.

"We had a long talk," Fryman recalled of his session Wednesday. "He told me I'd be a spot starter and used in certain situations."

Reds trade Bench? No way!

By BOB HERTZEL
The Cincinnati Enquirer

CINCINNATI, Ohio — Johnny Bench has had it happen to him twice now. He has picked up the newspaper and read of his impending departure via a trade.

"Just like the old horse they put in a claiming race and hope somebody takes him," he says, fully aware of the absurdity of the trade "rumors" that are floating around.

Talk of trading Johnny Bench at this time ignores certain factors that are of import:

(1) Johnny Bench is on the second year of a two-year contract, meaning the club he goes to would have to negotiate a contract with him.

(2) He is suffering from a severe knee injury that seems most likely to lead him into off-season surgery.

(3) He is hitting .224, that coming off a year in which he hit .234 with just 16 home runs.

(4) Around the league he remains a drawing card, each fan who pays to see him meaning 40 cents in the Cincinnati strong box.

(5) The Reds have no replacement for him readily available.

In other words, how the hell do you trade Johnny Bench, assuming you want to?

JOHNNY BENCH
Trade rumors just rumors

Bench, of course, jokes about the trade rumors and the talk.

"Let's face it," he says sarcastically, "my medical expenses are sky high."

Then, commenting on the press proposed trade of him for the Mets' Tom Seaver, he laughs and says, "I wonder how Seaver would like No. 5."

But, there is a serious side to the situation, too.

Sparky Anderson tried to bat Bench in the No. 4 spot in the order, partially because Bench is supposed to do certain things offensively and partially in an effort to instill enough confidence in him so that he can do those things. It hasn't worked.

For a long time, Anderson just lived with Bench in the No. 4 spot. Asked about it, he was just as likely to answer, "I see the Pirates have won five in a row," as to give a rational answer as to why Bench was fourth in the lineup.

Bench responded by getting just six hits in 52 tries as a cleanup hitter and driving in only six runs, four of them coming with one swing of the bat, a grand slam home run in Los Angeles.

The fact is, though, that John Bench is only a shell of his former self. At 29, he is having troubles that could be called critical.

The knee bothers him more than anyone seems to be admitting. "I can't hit when it hurts like it does," he said. But he really doesn't want to talk about the pain.

"I've talked about it so much people aren't going to believe me," he admitted.

Yet it is there. He has a standing situation now with Anderson. The manager puts his name in the lineup and he plays if he can. If not, it is up to Bench to go to Anderson and scratch himself.

It is that serious.

Throw in the numerous bumps and bruises that come with catching, living the life of a celebrity and the lingering effects of major lung surgery, something that took a great deal more out of Bench than just a small piece of lung, and you understand what it has been like.

Add to all that the mental torture of a marriage breakdown, ending in a divorce that became almost as much a circus as was his wedding, and it is easy to understand why, perhaps prematurely, his Hall of Fame performance has reached the level of a mere mortal.

But trade talks centering around Bench still seem to be more of a pipe dream than a reality.

Reds finally beat Astros, 4-0

Norman tosses zeroes at Houston

CINCINNATI (AP) — "I walked eight batters," that's not me, lamented pitcher Fred Norman despite the two-hit shutout he threw at the Houston Astros on Friday night.

"I know I only gave up two hits. It brings the club up and that's what's important," Norman, 5-2, said after the 4-0 victory. Cincinnati's first in five games with the Astros this season. It was Norman's first complete game.

"He confuses the hitters because they try to outguess him," said catcher Johnny Bench who hit a two-run homer. "They think they have him pegged but then the bottom drops out on the next pitch."

"I knew we were in trouble when I saw Norman was the pitcher," said Houston batting coach Deacon Jones. "His style always gives our hitters trouble."

Reds Manager Sparky Anderson, commenting on Norman's variety of pitches, said, "Freddie is one of the premier pitchers in the game, if he doesn't try to get too fine."

Anderson noted Norman's career record has low hits per inning "but he has a bad base on balls record."

The victory evened Cincinnati's record at 24-24 and Anderson was elated by the two-hit performance of two-time Most Valuable Player Joe Morgan.

"Let me tell you, the Reds are moving now because the little man is starting to turn it on," said Anderson.

"Yes, it's coming around," said Morgan. "Before I was killing the rallies but now I'm keeping them going."

George Foster's two-run double in the second inning off loser Mark Lemongello, 1-8, got the Reds on the scoreboard.

Bench's two run blast in the third inning carried 425-feet over the left centerfield wall.

The Astros and Reds meet tonight in the third of a four game series. The Astros won Thursday night.

Houston's hits were by Art Howe, his fourth consecutive double in two games, and Jose Cruz. Both were left on base.

Racing commission getting tough

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio racing commissioners are getting tough with tracks seeking state-approved capital improvements.

In less than two years, the commissioners have approved $1.5 million in a dozen capital improvements under new state racing law. The tracks' projects of more than $100,000 qualify for 70 per cent state aid.

What ruffles the commissioners is last-minute requests by tracks.

Montreal takes 2-0 victory

Rogers one-hits Cardinals

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Steve Rogers wouldn't take the pitch back, even if it cost him a no-hitter. "I had no regrets about that pitch," he said. "He could've hit it at the shortstop."

But Mike Tyson didn't. He grounded the ball up the middle with one out in the third inning—and it turned out to be the only hit off Rogers as the Montreal Expos posted a 2-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Friday night.

Rogers, one of the hottest pitchers in the National League, struck out 10 batters to bring his league-leading total to 83. Not incidentally, he lowered his earned run average to 1.92 and improved his record to 7-4.

In other National League games, the San Diego Padres blanked the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 in 11 innings; the Cincinnati Reds turned back the Houston Astros 4-0; the Pittsburgh Pirates trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-0; the Philadelphia Phillies edged the New York Mets 1-0 and the Atlanta Braves took a two-night doubleheader from the San Francisco Giants, 5-3 and 8-7.

Rogers was staked to a 1-0 lead in the first when Dave Cash scored on Ellis Valentine's forceout grounder. St. Louis starter Eric Rasmussen, who surrendered only five hits, retired the next 13 men he faced before Larry Parrish clouted his sixth homer of the season in the fifth. It was Parrish's first homer at the Olympic Stadium.

Rasmussen struck out five and walked none before he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

Padres 1, Dodgers 0

Dave Winfield belted an 11th-inning home run to boost San Diego over Los Angeles, as four Padres pitchers combined on a two-hitter. Winfield's homer, his 11th, came off loser Charlie Hough. Hough had relieved starter Don Sutton after nine innings.

Randy Jones started for San Diego, giving up two hits through six innings, and was followed by Rick Sawyer, Dan Spillner and Rollie Fingers. Fingers pitched the final 21-3 innings to earn his fourth victory in five decisions.

Reds 4, Astros 0

Fred Norman pitched a two-hitter and Johnny Bench lashed a two-run homer as Cincinnati whipped Houston. Norman, the winner of his last four decisions, was plagued with wildness. He walked six batters in the first four innings, and later walked two batters in the ninth before pitching out of trouble.

The Reds scored all the runs they needed in the second when George Foster opened with a single and scored ahead of Bench's ninth homer of the season.

Pirates 5, Cubs 0

Jim Rooker pitched a five-hitter and Dave Parker drove in two runs to lead Pittsburgh over Chicago. The triumph moved the Pirates within a half-game of the first-place Cubs in the National League East.

The Pirates took the lead to stay in the first inning with three runs off Chicago starter Ray Burris. Frank Taveras and Phil Garner opened the Pirate first with singles, and Garner took second as a throw was made to third base in a vain try to get Taveras.

Parker followed with a two-run single, then stole second and scored himself on a single by Bill Robinson.

Phillies 1, Mets 0

Jim Lonborg and Ron Reed combined to pitch a five-hitter as Philadelphia defeated New York and snapped the Mets' three-game winning streak under new Manager Joe Torre.

Lonborg, a spring training casualty who made only one other appearance this season, earned his first victory of the year as Reed pitched two innings in relief and collected his fifth save. Jon Matlack went the distance for the Mets and took the loss although allowing only six hits.

Braves 5-8, Giants 3-7

Willie Montanez and Gary Matthews each belted two-run homers to lead Atlanta over San Francisco in the opener of their doubleheader.

Montanez hit his fifth homer of the season in the third inning following a walk to Darrel Chaney. Matthews drilled his seventh into the left-field seats in the fifth after Montanez collected his first of two singles.

Blazers one game away

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Portland Trail Blazers, expansion ragamuffins who suffered through six losing seasons, are just one game away from the National Basketball Association championship in their first year under Coach Jack Ramsay.

They'll try to wrap it up Sunday (CBS, 3 p.m., EDT) on their home floor, where they have been virtually unbeatable this year, winning their last 17 in a row and 44 of 50 through the regular season and playoffs. And they'll have the added support of the vocal legions who have made Blazermania a phenomenon in the Pacific Northwest.

The Blazers produced something less than their best Friday night but nonetheless moved within one victory of the NBA crown, beating the Philadelphia 76ers 110-104 to take a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven playoff finals.

It was a strange game that ran in spurts and produced an unlikely hero—Bobby Gross, Portland's unassuming 6-foot-6 forward who came into the series as "the other guy," the unknown whose job it would be to try and stop the brilliant Julius Erving of Philadelphia.

Gross helped the Blazers take the lead at the start, contributing eight points, two assists and a steal as Portland jumped out to a 16-9 advantage while Philadelphia was missing 11 of its first 14 shots.

The rest of the first half was miserable basketball which Ramsay described as "not an artistic masterpiece." Neither team could get anything going, and although the Sixers hit only 29 per cent of their shots from the field, they trailed by just 45-41.

It was 53-44 before Philadelphia ran off four straight baskets, the last two by slumping George McGinnis, to pull within one at 53-52 with 8:03 to go in the third period.

Gross spearheaded a Portland explosion which produced 32 points over the next eight minutes. He scored 11 of his team-high 25 points in the third quarter, which ended with Portland in command 85-66.

The Blazers increased the lead to 22 points in the fourth quarter.

Tribe trims Seattle, 7-1

Eckersley narrowly misses 73-year-old hitless record

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Dennis Eckersley missed Cy Young's 73-year-old record by a mere two outs, which was one less out than the Baltimore Orioles picked up when they pulled off one of the strangest triple plays in baseball history.

Eckersley, the 22-year-old Cleveland Indian right-hander, pitched his third straight gem of a game, but it wasn't enough to overtake the legendary Young, a Hall of Famer.

After 22 1-3 hitless innings covering three games—one a no-hitter—Seattle's Ruppert Jones tagged Eckersley for a home run with two outs in the sixth inning Friday night. Jim Kern relieved at the start of the seventh and didn't allow a hit, preserving the Indians' one-hit, 7-1 victory over the Mariners.

What's over for Eckersley is a sensational streak of 22 1-3 innings of hitless pitching and 23 2-3 straight scoreless innings.

Young remains in the record books with the 23 hitless innings he pitched in 1904 with the Boston Red Sox. And Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati remains alone in the record books for his two straight no-hitters.

But the Orioles are probably alone in baseball history for their weird triple play, which started as a routine sacrifice fly then ended with shortstop Mark Belanger making two putouts.

Gottfried seeks victory

PARIS (AP) — An unfamiliar spectacle was offered to Parisian tennis fans today—the semifinals of the French Open Championships, with not a European player in sight.

"It's high time someone from the other side of the Atlantic won this title," said Brian Gottfried of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., one of the four men in contention in the changing scene of the Roland Garros Stadium grounds.

Gottfried was to play Phil Dent of Australia. The other semi was between Raul Ramirez of Mexico and Guillermo Vilas of Argentina.

REFLECTIONS ON LIVING

Where the mood determines the setting — fun, family togetherness in helping Mother Nature entertain the family of yours.

Just across the road from "Clairemont Village," the most relaxed setting for a bi-level, three bedroom, well insulated, family home is now available. This is snuggled on a little hillside all surrounded by choice trees and shrubbery, plus many bird boxes for many birds.

Other desirable features: large stone fireplace with heatlator, built-ins in kitchen, large living room, three comfortable bedrooms, full bath, all carpeted, on the main floor. The lower level has 3/4 bath, plenty of storage areas, utility area, all off the one large room. Stoker furnace and very low cost heat expense.

This property is clean, well built, and the new owner can live here with pride.

Contract Bridge B. Jay Becker

The Opening Lead

North dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

NORTH		EAST
♠ J 5 4		♠ 10 9 3
♥ Q 6 2		♥ 10 9 7 5
♦ K Q 3		♦ A 8 6 4 2
♣ A 8 5 2		♣ 4

WEST		SOUTH
♠ K 2		♠ A Q 8 7 6
♥ K J 8 4		♥ A 3
♦ J 10 9 7		♦ 5
♣ 7 6 3		♣ K Q J 10 9

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass

Opening lead - seven of clubs.

Finding the best opening lead is often the key to successful defense. If you keep your ears tuned in on the adverse bidding and concentrate on the multiplicity of messages being transmitted back and forth, you may intercept some vital clues that will guide you to the winning lead.

Consider this deal where West found the killing opening against four spades. He led a club and South was now in a position where, whatever he did, he had to go down one.

He won the club lead with the jack and led a diamond, hoping West would have the ace and duck. But East won dummy's queen with the ace and returned a heart.

South had no quick entry to dummy to discard a heart on the king of diamonds, so he ducked the heart in the hope that East had led away from the king. But West showed up with the king and returned a club. East ruffed, thus scoring the third trick for the defense, and South later lost a trump trick to go down one.

West's opening club lead was well founded. He knew from the bidding that declarer held five spades, since South would not have bid spades twice with only a four-card suit. West realized also that South had at least five clubs for his club bid; with four clubs and five spades he would have opened the bidding with one spade.

West also knew that North had at least four clubs for his jump-raise in clubs, which in turn meant that East had either a singleton or was void in clubs. So West led a club and was well rewarded for paying attention to the bidding and making the only lead to defeat the contract.

Ohio Power loses bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Power will not get a rehearing in a case in which the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has ordered a $9.5 million refund to customers for fuel overcharges.

The Canton-based electric utility argued that it had not technically violated the law and that coal costs were passed on to ratepayers in compliance with the fuel adjustment clause.

PUCO said in its April 4 order to the utility that the higher costs were the result of production for other utilities and should not be passed on to regular customers.

The regulatory commission stood by that order Friday by not accepting requests for a rehearing.

Ohio Power also claimed the PUCO lacked authority to order refunds. The exact method of reimbursing customers has yet to be determined by PUCO, but it will probably involve downward adjustments on service bills.

PUCO also denied a rehearing to Atty. Gen. William J. Brown's special litigation section, which said the refund should be $36,000 higher than ordered.

Urge taxes for welfare

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Citizens Council added its voice Friday to those claiming the legislature should raise taxes to meet welfare and other human needs.

Its former president, Mary K. Lazarus, told the Senate Finance Committee that decisions by government leaders against a tax hike were made "far apart from the needs, suffering, and the everyday struggles of many Ohioans to live."

The committee is conducting hearings on Ohio's $11.7 billion state budget bill, already approved by the House, where cuts were made in Aid to Dependent Children appropriations. Mrs. Lazarus urged the committee to restore the House cuts, and also provide funds for a cost-of-living increase for ADC recipients.

"We all know what inflation and the energy crisis have been like these last two years, yet nothing has been done to ease the vise these people are in," she said.

The Ohio League of Women Voters called on the legislature last week to raise taxes in order to provide more funds for vital state services.

Major BENEFITS. Option for STATEHOOD.

Even the Founding Fathers knew thirteen was only for starters.

So it wasn't long before sights were set on the land to the west.

But it took money to explore and settle. And thanks to Americans taking stock in their country, the money was there.

Today, taking stock in your country is just as important. And one of the best ways to do it is to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Just join the Payroll Savings Plan at work. Out of each paycheck, a little is set aside to buy Bonds. Automatically. And that means regular savings you can depend on.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. There's no safer way to save.

After all, the money's guaranteed by the home office.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

New Medical Alert Device

It is well known that the first few minutes after a heart attack or a stroke may determine, in some instances, whether a person will live or die.

When one is surrounded by friends or family, there is a greater chance that doctors and paramedics, and fire department and police department emergency rescue teams may come to the rescue.

For the many people who are living alone, a device known as "Microlet" was created by an engineer, Tom Cataldo, in Burbank, California.

The device is a tiny radio transmitter about the size of a matchbook. It can be worn around the neck and, when squeezed, can send out a message to one of the 24 hour emergency agencies in the city.

The message can, in addition, be sent to a neighbor friend or relative, thus insuring the live-alone immediate contact with the outside world should a medical emergency arise.

A long-haired young man had his entire scalp torn off when his hair got caught in machinery. (This is a danger that is more real than is commonly believed.)

A group of surgeons, neurosurgeons and plastic surgeons, using operating microscopes, did a total scalp replantation - possibly the first one done in this country.

At the Ralph K. Davies Medical Center in San Francisco, the surgeons worked for 17 hours to rejoin the arteries and veins that had been severed by the accident.

Working in relay teams, some tackled the problem of infection, others devoted themselves to the torn blood vessels, while another group tended to the injury to the skull itself.

The victim, after recovery, said, "I should have known better because, as a chef, I must be careful in the kitchen and keep my long hair tied back when I'm around moving parts or open flames."

At the Medical College of Georgia, Dr. Armand Karow and a team of scientists have succeeded in freezing animal kidneys, then thawing them and using them when needed for transplants in other animals.

This technique has proved to be of value and holds promise for human application.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers. Please write to him in care of this newspaper.

Youth slightly hurt in city mishap

A young child was slightly injured in the 500 block of Dayton Avenue shortly before 7 p.m. Friday when he ran into the side of a moving car.

Chad A. Minney, 1013 Dayton Ave., was reportedly walking on a sidewalk when he suddenly ran onto Dayton Avenue. A car driven by Robert E. Owen Jr., 18, of 1272 Dayton Ave., swerved to miss the child and the youngster ran into the side of the car. The boy's mother, Tonda L. Minney, witnessed the accident and accompanied her son to Fayette County Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released for abrasions of the right foot and ankle.

Three minor accidents were reported by area law enforcement agencies Friday. There were no other injuries.

POLICE

FRIDAY, 3:45 p.m. — Samuel J. Hunt, 63, of 678 Robinson Road, was cited for backing without safety after his car struck a parked car owned by Lenore Lauderman of Frankfort. The mishap occurred on Municipal Parking Lot No. 1.

7:18 p.m. — Eileen Downey, 20, of 1048 Country Club Drive, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after her car collided with a car driven by Loretta J. Helsel, 16, of 2051 Good Hope-New Holland Road. The accident occurred at the intersection of Leesburg Avenue and Draper Street.

SHERIFF

FRIDAY, 8 p.m. — Cars driven by Catherine A. Duncan, 33, of 9059 Creamer Road, and James W. Wood, 63, Jeffersonville, collided in an alley off Main Street in Jeffersonville. No citations were issued at the scene of the mishap.

Crime fight funds freed by Rhoades

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes announced approval this week of 31 grants totaling more than $844,000 in state and federal crime control funds.

The largest grant, $156,666 to the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction, will continue a program to increase the use of probation and-or community residential centers instead of incarceration for nonviolent offenders.

Other grants approved were:

—$21,111 to Allen County for continuation of a Y.M.C.A. group home for boys;

—$19,918 to the Ohio Municipal Judges Association to continue funding for two continuing education seminars for Ohio municipal and county court judges;

—$17,263 to the Department of Highway Safety for a continued program featuring three, six-day operational training schools for 180 Ohio law enforcement officers;

—$12,645 to the Department of Highway Safety to begin a standardized telecommunications program;

—$7,125 to Hocking County for the continued services of an investigator for the prosecuting attorney's office;

—$6,017 to Pickaway County for the continued employment of a full-time probation officer;

—$6,000 to the Judiciary of the State of Ohio to continue an appellate procedural study;

—$5,278 to Lake County to continue comprehensive management analysis and assistance to law enforcement agencies;

—$4,222 to Delaware County to purchase investigative equipment for the detective bureau of the sheriff's department;

—$2,986 to Vinton County for the continued services of two law clerks for the court of appeals;

—$2,375 to Pike County to purchase a recording system for the common pleas court.

Radio thefts reported

Four two-way radios valued at $900 a piece were reportedly taken from trucks at a construction site at 933 Old Chillicothe Road late Friday night or early Saturday.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported that the four business radios were owned by the Basic Construction Co. The radios were taken by prying open wing windows on the trucks and opening the doors.

The Sheriff's Department is also investigating the theft of a large stone flower pot from a grave at the Good Hope Cemetery. Howard Stewart 4815 Ohio 753, reported that the flower pot, which was valued at $15, was stolen late Thursday or early Friday.

The Washington C.H. Police Department is also investigating a larceny report. James F. Ater Sr., 213½ N. Hinde St., reported that someone stole a tool box and various tools from his home Thursday night. The stolen property was valued at $200.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Natural Resources reports a record 2.4 million persons visited Ohio's 64 state parks over the Memorial Day weekend, the traditional beginning of summer activities.

Trash men fight smut

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Ralph Perk didn't say it was a matter of convenience or whether his couriers were appropriately chosen, but he has enlisted the aid of trash collectors in his anti-smut campaign.

Perk said Friday that the city's garbage men will deliver a comprehensive poll to every home, seeking residents' views on pornography.

He said he hopes the poll will establish standards that will meet U.S. Supreme Court guidelines for prosecuting obscenity cases.

Perk said Cleveland is a city "under siege from people with little or no moral standards. We are mounting a full, an all-out offensive against pornography ... We are going to war."

He said results of a preliminary poll taken by college students now are being analyzed by Cleveland State University professors.

The questionnaires being delivered to 300,000 to 400,000 homes are intended "to go directly to the people, using the Supreme Court's guidelines, to get a complete, overall point of view ..."

The Supreme Court "has given each community the right of self-determination to set its own standards," he said. "We are going to establish those standards."
